

HAPPY NEW YEAR

FOREIGN BORN PEOPLE IN U. S.

Many Immigrants On Our Shores Slow In Becoming Citizens

Immigration to the United States has been a stupendous thing in the past and, despite the temporary lull, when the war in Europe is over it will doubtless be resumed in full volume. The frightful taxes and the poverty of Europe after this war will drive tens of thousands to this country, and the question of a new immigration policy is being widely discussed, says the Marinette Mining Journal.

More than ten millions have emigrated to this country in the decade which will close with this year. America's political institutions and social life are based upon democracy. Will these institutions be seriously threatened by an unrestricted immigration? There is developing among us a vast male population who are still aliens and who owe allegiance to foreign powers.

The 1910 census showed that out of 5,942,000 foreign-born males over twenty one years of age, 3,221,000 were still aliens. While 770,000 born in Great Britain have become citizens of the United States, 419,000 are still British; in the case of Germany 339,000 have become naturalized, while 389,000 are still Germans.

Those from south Europe are even less ready to become Americans. Austria, for instance, gives us 149,000 naturalized citizens to 460,000 aliens; Hungary 36,000 citizens to 219,000 aliens, and Russia 192,000 citizens to 545,000 aliens, while Italy gives us only 126,000 citizens to 586,000 aliens.

It is advocated that steps should be taken at once to check this vast inflow of immigrants who intend to maintain their allegiance to foreign powers. It is also advocated that such education shall be provided as shall help the aliens to grasp our ideas and ideals and shall eventually transform them into real American citizens.

There is no more important subject before the nation and it is a delicate question, one that must be handled firmly but diplomatically.

At a special meeting held in Wausau the consolidation of the Wausau Street Railway company and the Merrill Street Ry. and Lighting company was approved. After the formal consolidation of the two companies the name was changed to the Wisconsin Valley Electric company and the capital stock was increased to $800,000 and the sale of $200,000 of stock was authorized.

Extension of the Wausau electric line to Merrill, and southward to Mosinee is among the first new work contemplated, and this may be done during 1916.

Those who have given the matter careful study believe that the formation of this company will mean an electric line the entire length of the Wisconsin river valley from Stevens Point to Eagle River within a very few years.

Fire was discovered early Christmas morning in the office room of the Morgan garage and but for the prompt work of the boys from No. 1 hose house a serious loss would have resulted.

The night operator at the telephone exchange discovered something was wrong at the garage when the blaze reached the telephone line and promptly called one of the policemen's attention to it. On visiting the place the cause of the line trouble was quickly located and no time lost in getting the department at work.

TAX PAYING IS NOW IN ORDER

Although the city tax roll was open for payment of taxes previous to Christmas there were but few citizens who visited City Treasurer Ashton's office for the purpose of obtaining their tax receipt. A number called and learned the amount they will be required to dig down for. The rate is about the same per $100 assessed valuation as a year ago, so if your assessed value is no greater your taxes will vary but little from what they were at that time. The section of law relating to tax payments provides that from the third Monday in December until the first day of February payments can be made with a one per cent collection fee added. After February 1 two per cent additional will be assessed until March 15, after which time taxes are payable to county treasurers with fees and interest at one per cent a month and after the first Monday in April, 25 cents on each parcel of land for advertising.

On the third Tuesday in May all land on which taxes are unpaid are sold for taxes, interest and charges. Within 3 years thereafter and before a tax deed is recorded the land can be redeemed by paying to the county treasurer the amount sold for with interest at 15 per cent charged.

NEW MARKET FOR BIRCH LUMBER

The decreasing supply of black walnut and increasing demand for firearms has created a demand for Wisconsin birch to be used in the manufacture of gun stocks. The probability is that this Wisconsin hardwood will be used entirely by the companies manufacturing military rifles as it is acknowledged to be the best substitute for the wood used at present. Oneida county has millions of feet of this class of timber and one of our local dealers has for many years featured this class of timber on his printed matter. In the manufacturing world red birch is frequently referred to as "Wisconsin mahogany", so closely does it resemble this expensive wood where carefully selected and worked up by the furniture manufacturers.

NEW SYSTEM OF MILK DELIVERY

The Rhinelander Creamery and Produce Co. now make delivery of milk to their customers in bottles. The new system was put into effect Monday morning and patrons are highly pleased as a result. The company recently took over the business of the Riverside Dairy and at that time it was given out that several changes for the betterment of all concerned would be made.

A complete equipment for the Pasteurizing of the milk has been put in at the creamery and each morning before the milk is bottled for delivery it is first filtered and then Pasteurized, which insures to the citizens absolutely the best milk obtainable. The new system has cost a considerable outlay of money by the creamery people.

MINOCQUA TAX CASE IS SETTLED

The tax case of the McClueg Lumber Co. vs. the Town of Minocqua was decided in favor of the McClueg Co. The commission stated that the litigants could settle between themselves, or the tax commission would take it up and if no settlement can be reached, the commission will order a reassessment. This action means a refund of about $1000 to the McClueg Co. considering the over tax which is about $800 with costs which will take in the balance of the $1000.

DEATH SUMMONS AGED RESIDENT

Wm. Smith Dies At His Home
Saturday Morning, Aged
81 Years

After an illness extending over a period of several months Wm. Smith passed from this life Saturday morning, which was his 60th wedding anniversary.

Deceased had resided in Rhinelander for over fifteen years, moving here from Aberdeen, S. D., near where he for a like period of years operated a large farm. He was born in Canada, coming to the United States when a young man. He was a man unusually active for one of his years and until his recent illness was seen about the streets almost daily. He was well posted on all matters and a close student of nature, and an interesting conversationalist, and the news of his passing from our midst will be received with feelings of sincere regret by his large number of friends.

The body, accompanied by his son, Atwood Smith of this city, and a daughter from Aberdeen, S. D., who has been added to the special department of the care of her father, left Monday morning for Columbia, S. D., where burial was made beside a daughter who died while the family resided there. A wife, two sons and two daughters survive.

MUSIC AT STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

Students at the Milwaukee State Normal School are now offered the advantages of a School of Music. It has been added to the special departments by President C. G. Pearce, and Otto W. Miessner, formerly supervisor of public school music at Oak Park, Ill., is the director. The registration for the first term of this year was nearly one hundred.

This is the only music department of its kind now connected with the normal schools of the state. It was authorized by the board of regents in June, 1914.

Many regular and special courses are offered in the theory and practice of music. One of the courses prepares students to be supervisors of public music. Instruction is being given in voice, piano, and orchestral instruments.

A large normal school chorus has been organized in addition to a chorus for girls and a men's glee club. Instruments have been purchased recently for a brass band and an orchestra.

PRINTER INJURED AT NEWS OFFICE

Waldemar Johnson, employed in the office of the Rhinelander News, was quite seriously injured late Friday afternoon and is confined at his home where he moves about with the aid of crutches. In looking after some adjustment to the cylinder press he got down into the framework of the machine and was working in a stooped over position. The party who had been feeding the press not knowing that he was there stepped up to the press with a stock of paper to be fed and throwing the switch started the machine. Almost at the same instant a shout from Johnson was heard and the motor was stopped, but not until the bed of the press had caught one of his limbs and crushed the fleshy part of the leg above the knee. While the injury is a painful one no bones were broken and he considers himself very fortunate that he got out of the accident as well as he did. The prompt action of the feeder in stopping the press when hearing Johnson's cry was all that saved his life.

Roy White and wife of Minocqua were visitors to Rhinelander the first of the week.

TIMELY WARNING IS SOUNDED

Mrs. L. Kaufman, who listened to the call of California land sharks and parted with her hard earned cash for what she expected would be an "easy life," sounds the following warning to others in the following letter which appeared in the Milwaukee Leader:

"I am writing to you, with the view of keeping people of the East from coming to California, in expectation of making a living here. I am well aware that certain real estate firms send most alluring literature to the east and middle west, telling of the fortunes to be made here on lands. There are fortunes made all right, but the foxy real estate man is the one who gets them, the eastern sucker who invests generally gets stung.

Some people make a business of locating people on government lands at $1 an acre that looks good to the land hungry easterner, "but" the land is desert, worthless without water and not worth much with it. On my own particular chunk of desert, I manage by fighting with neighbors, who are higher up on the irrigation ditch, to get a little water about once a month.

I made up my mind to raise a garden this year or die trying. Well, I did not do either. Twice I had visions of fresh, succulent eats, and twice the hot dry winds did for my hopes. Discouraged I left the farm and came to town to try and make a living. I am a nurse, have recommendations from Idaho physicians, also am something of a bookkeeper, but after trying in vain to get even the poorest paid positions in either of these branches, I tried to get laundry work to do, with just as poor success. 10 days work in five weeks representing the sum total. Rent and groceries are much higher than anywhere I have lived before.

I would have been on a fair way to a comfortable maintenance for my old age if I had never had come to California. It was the lying misrepresentation of a certain real estate company, who managed to get over $600 of my money that brought me down here.—Mrs. L. Kaufman, Los Angeles, Cal."

"BOYS GIVEN" VALUABLE HELP

A new team is pulling together. The county agent, or agricultural representative, has been hitched with boys who either have finished, or dropped out of school. Together, they have organized county short courses, which are doing much to build a more successful and permanent agriculture in their respective counties.

These courses consist of two winter terms and the work is given at a time when it is most convenient for the boys and their fathers. Each term consists of at least seven weeks of school work, and between the terms the students carry on home projects in farming, the county agent superintending all of this follow-up work. These projects, which may take the form of keeping records of milk production, of raising crops, of constructing buildings, etc., are the proofs of the pudding and, according to reports, the boys are making good in a fine way.

Appreciating the value and excellence of the work done in these county courses, the regents of the University have voted to give graduates from them a year's credit in the short course given at the College of Agriculture.

Eight counties last year organized and conducted such courses.

TRIPOLI SUFFERS SERIOUS BLAZE

Fire Christmas Morning Wipes
Out Saw Mill and Veneer
Plant There

The thriving little village of Tripoli west of here on the Soo road was the scene of a fire Saturday morning that laid in ruins the saw mill and veneer plant of the Stolle Lbr. Co., throwing out of employment between seventy-five and 100 men and boys. The origin of the fire is not known, but it started near the junction of the veneer mill with the saw mill, both of which were run by the same power plant. In less than an hour after the fire was discovered both plants were in ruins.

The exact amount of the loss is not known. The company had sufficient orders on hand to keep busy for several months and it has been given out that steps will be taken at once to rebuild the property destroyed. The veneer mill was a fine building, three stories in height, equipped with the finest of machinery. The saw mill, though not large, was equipped with modern machinery and was considered one of the best of its size in this part of the country.

SIX STATES GET ON WATER WAGON

Six western states, Colorado, Iowa, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Arkansas, voted dry by legislatures, are preparing to enforce the laws which become effective at midnight, Dec. 31.

With South Carolina, which also becomes dry Jan. 1, and Virginia, where prohibition is effective Nov. 1, 1916, nineteen states will be in the dry column.

Nebraska, California, Michigan, South Dakota, Vermont and the territory of Alaska will vote on statewide prohibition next year, they have already announced, and several other states are expected to ballot on the question.

The seven states which board the water cart Friday midnight add a population of 38,254,043 to the dry ranks, according to the 1910 census.

The High school basket ball team will meet the Alumni team at the school gym on Saturday evening, game to call promptly at 8 o'clock. Lovers of this game are promised an interesting evening's amusement as the two teams will both work hard for the honors.

YOUNG BOY IS RIFLE EXPERT

Supervisor Barlow of the second ward has a grandson who is somewhat of a rifle expert for one of his years. The boy has just passed his fifth birthday, and has to his credit the scalps of twenty squirrels and gophers which he killed the past summer on the Barlow farm in the town of Newbold. Mr. Barlow spends his summers on his riverside farm and Fred, his grandson is his daily companion. The little lad handles a gun with the ease of one many years his senior and takes great delight in his hunting trips with his grandfather. He is also somewhat of a fisherman and can handle a fish pole and line and get results. In this he also takes great delight, baiting his own hooks and removing the fish with the dexterity of a much older head.

HANSON LEASES ANTIGO THEATRE

Palace Theater To Be Used For Store—Will Build Larger
Playhouse

The Antigo Journal of Friday states that P. J. Hanson has leased the building known as the Palace Theater in Antigo for a period of ten years to the F. W. Woolworth Company, the large ten cent store corporation, possession to be given August 1, 1916. About $3,000 will be spent in making alterations to the building.

The closing of this transaction between Mr. Hanson and the Woolworth company means the erection of a much larger theater in Antigo by Mr. Hanson, one with a seating capacity of 1,200. Foundation walls are now in and the completed building will be ready for occupancy in the early fall.

WOODRUFF MAN STABS COMPANION

Robert Roula on Friday last made an assault on Adam Hill at Woodruff, his weapon being a knife which he used like a veteran "Finn" at the business. Hill received two or three very bad cuts about his head and neck and lost a considerable amount of blood as a result.

Roula was brought up for a hearing as soon as Hill recovered sufficiently to appear in court and give testimony concerning the affair, which was Tuesday morning. The charge was assault with intent to do great bodily harm and he must stand trial in Circuit Court in March. Judge Smith deeming the evidence submitted such as to warrant his being held for trial in the higher court at that time.

WHEELS TURN AT FLOORING MILL

After lying idle for a number of months the flooring plant on the north side is again in operation, a crew of twenty-five or thirty hands being put to work this morning. During the past few weeks the plant has been undergoing repairs and some changes have been made in the machinery equipment also. The permanency of this manufacturing institution to the industrial life of Rhinelander now seems assured. The Mason-Donaldson Lbr. Co. will operate the plant and skilled hands in the flooring business have been secured from Hermansville and Escanaba, Mich. Heretofore the flooring plant has been operated at irregular intervals, and has been idle now for many months.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of interest to Our Readers. Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of Rhineland woman is confirmed after six years.

Mrs. A. Gruebel, 828 Arbutus St., St. Rhineland, says: "I always had kidney trouble, in fact, I can't remember when I wasn't doctoring for it. I suffered from a dull, heavy ache in the small of my back and it bothered me mostly at night when I lay down. My back was fearfully lame and my kidneys were weak giving me great annoyance. As soon as I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, I could see a difference and I kept on taking them. Four boxes fixed me up all right and I had no more trouble for a long time. Then from over-work and taking cold, I had an attack of backache, but I again used Doan's Kidney Pills and one box was enough to fix me up all right."

(Statement given May, 1907)

OVER SIX YEARS LATER Mrs. Gruebel said: "I can say that I value Doan's Kidney Pills as highly as ever."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Gruebel has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BOYS AND GIRLS AT STATE FAIR

The premium list for the 1916 state fair is being prepared by the Wisconsin department of agriculture. Special effort is being made to strengthen the boys' and girls' exhibit and contest department. This department was created this year and is the beginning of one of the strongest divisions of the fair. The amount of money to be awarded will be larger than in 1915, and several competitions will be added.

It has been decided to drop the blacksmiths' contest and the boys' aviation department. A world's record was established by the dairy department in 1915, and the prospects are that the 1916 record will be exceeded in 1916.

Supt. E. L. Luther expects more than thirty-five county exhibits in 1916. Already Wood, Sawyer, Oneida, Ozaukee and Milwaukee counties have voted to exhibit.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN NEARBY TOWNS

Oshkosh—

Mrs. C. H. Hartley, wife of C. H. Hartley, general manager of the Wisconsin and Northern railway, died here on Sunday at the age of 55 years. Mrs. Hartley was well known throughout the Fox river valley. She was active in social, benevolent and religious organizations. Surviving are her husband, two sons and a daughter.

Ironwood—

The Chicago & Northwestern road hauled 85,000 carloads of ore from this city to Ashland during the season just passed, the larger part of it since August 1st, and, with all this great traffic, not a man was killed, nor did a serious accident occur. As a sort of celebration or acknowledgment of this good work, Supt. Quigley, of the Ashland division of the road, entertained the traffic and maintenance-of-way officers and employees at a very pleasant banquet at the Curry Hotel.

Gladstone—

At the meeting Saturday of the Barraga county board of supervisors, it was decided by a vote of three to two to submit the local option issue to the people at the spring election. At the October meeting, similar petitions were presented but owing to the non-conformity to certain legal requirements the request was tabled. New petitions were prepared during the interval.

Hartley—

Before Judge Risjord in Ashland on Monday John Greenwood of Saxon, pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy. Greenwood was taken to Ashland by Sheriff Connors, accompanied by District Attorney Lennon. Judge Risjord suspended the passing of a sentence for the present and has placed Greenwood under parole. A peculiar feature of this case, which recently came to light, is that Greenwood's first wife has also remarried without first obtaining a divorce and is likewise a bigamist.

Spooner—

Joseph Hughes was instantly killed about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon while weighing cars in the railroad yard. He was struck by a saw log that fell off the car he was weighing, striking him in the chest and pinning him against a car standing on the track behind him. He was weighmaster for the railroad.

CARE OF MILK IN THE HOME

(By Dr. W. D. Frost, University of Wisconsin)

The quality of the milk when used, depends to a considerable extent upon the care it receives in the home. We are sometimes inclined to blame the milk man for troubles which are due to improper care of the milk after it has left his hands.

The housewife who is anxious to provide the family under her charge with a pure milk should choose her milk man carefully, should insist on bottle delivery and then when the milk comes to the house should put it promptly into the ice box and not allow it to stand on the porch, window sill or kitchen table. To allow the milk to stand in a warm room will hasten greatly the growth of bacteria and hence lessen the keeping qualities of the milk.

In opening the bottle, first wipe the mouth of it with a clean towel before removing the cap. Use a sharp pointed instrument to remove the cap, lift it with care and rinse it in clean running water before replacing it.

Mix the milk well before using it. Inverting the bottle rapidly two or three times will do this. Pour out only the amount needed for a specific purpose, and pour into clean receptacles only. Do not return any unused portion to the milk in the bottle, but place it in the ice chest in another dish.

Keep all milk containers tightly covered to prevent the entrance of dust, dirt, or other foreign matter. Do not keep more than one day's supply of milk at a time, but order a fresh supply daily.

Wash the milk bottles carefully before returning them to your milk man. In some places this is required by law. The best way to wash a milk bottle is to first rinse it out thoroughly with cold water and then carefully with very hot water. All vessels used for holding milk or cream should be cleansed in the same manner.

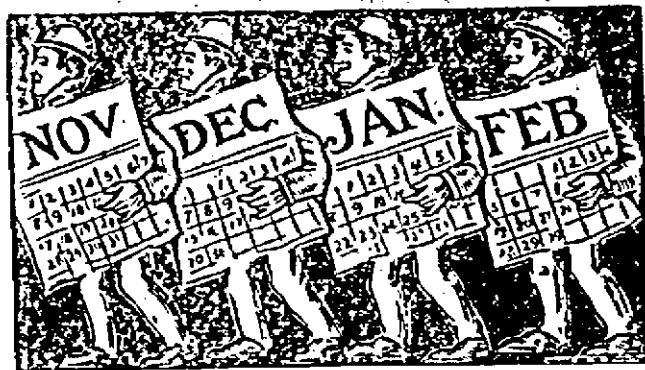

Milk bottles should never be used for any other purpose than holding milk or cream.

It is important to take the proper care of your ice chest. Milk will readily absorb odors and, therefore, the ice box must be kept scrupulously clean. Strong smelling foods, such as onions and cheese, must not be kept in the same compartments with milk or butter.

Milk prepared for infant feeding in nursing bottles should be kept in the ice chest until just before using. The practice of heating the baby's milk at evening and keeping it warm until night or early morning feeding is very bad. The heat thus maintained is most favorable to the growth of bacteria.

Some are always looking for the loaded wagon. If it is a political job, he is willing to take help from any faction, but he is never willing to return favors, except to stay on the fence and see which side to jump.

It is quite amusing to have some one tell you how to handle your business, especially when it effects his business, but a shrewd newspaper man should handle the public's business justly and not be the tool of the fox.

Measles is listed among the dangerous contagious diseases. Then it is the duty of the physician to report every case to the Health Department. Disinfection with fumigation is required. That is washing of wood work, floors and cases and other articles that may be disinfected. Every house where there is a case of measles must be placarded, but not quarantined, so that no person may run into the measles unknowingly. This is according to Rule 17 of the State Board of Health.

At the present time manipulations are going on to make a settlement for the defaulting city treasurer. We expect to hear reports made at the regular council meeting next Tuesday. Mr. Sutton has shrewd counsel and many close friends to play his game, but neither of these should rob the masses of their justice. This same Sutton has lived a double life. He has played John and he has played Bill, he has played everything for Sutton and nothing for the masses and this paper stands ready to see him prosecuted for his crimes.

United States Senator, Robert M. LaFollette will speak on the great issues of the day at the Opera House in this city Monday evening. Address to begin at 8:15. Hear the man that has done much for the masses, who has the facts to show that E. L. Philipp and his ilk have sought offices not to protect the masses, but put the offices in the hands of the big interests. Do not fail to hear this man with his actual facts. Senator LaFollette will arrive from the south on the afternoon Northwestern train and will stop at the Rapids Hotel. If anyone wishes to meet the Senator and converse with him on the subjects of the day or hear him express his views on the great public questions, do not hesitate to meet him at the railroad station at the time the Northwestern arrives, or go to the Rapids House and see him there.

HOLIDAY TRADE GOOD
Merchants of the city report an excellent holiday trade this year. Buying commenced earlier and the total amount of trade was much larger than a year ago. Not only has the sales in strictly holiday lines been large but sales on the staple articles as well. Dry goods merchants and clothing dealers report a much better business so far this winter than they enjoyed at this time a year ago; giving a cause improvement of general conditions and the arrival of winter camp weather at an earlier date.

BUSINESS PLACES CLOSE

WAR TAX FOR NEXT YEAR

The war tax has been extended a year from December 31, 1915, according to notice received in the city from the office of the internal revenue collector at Madison.

Brokers, proprietors of billiard and pool rooms, bowling alleys, theatres, cigar and tobacco manufacturers, tobacco dealers and commission merchants are required to pay one-half of the yearly tax, covering from January 1 to July 1, 1916.

This tax is due on January 1, and may be paid without penalty at any time before January 21, a 50 per cent penalty attaches automatically for nonpayment after that date.

BALL A SUCCESS

The Library benefit ball given by the Woman's Club Tuesday evening was a decided success from every standpoint. Over seventy-five tickets were sold and nearly all who purchased tickets were present.

The Arroyo was artistically decorated with small fluffy pines and bare branches covered with red blossoms. The lights were covered with red shades and gave a softened light, which added a beauty to the gowns of almost every shade.

It was a gay company and a very pretty affair.

Mr. Batdorf and Miss Darlington kindly gave an exhibition of fancy dancing which was thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators. They are artists and their dancing added much to the entertainment of those present.

Coffee and sandwiches were served in the balcony.

The ladies of the committee who ventured this means of raising money for the club worked hard to make the ball a success and are to be congratulated upon giving one of the finest parties held in this city.

HOW LONG?

Standing in front of one of Rhinelander's saloons on Thayer street a few days ago was a young man. He was already intoxicated. He was fingering through all his pockets, evidently searching for another dime. As I crossed the railroad track I turned and saw him enter the saloon. Did he get the extra drink after he was already intoxicated?

Last Thursday afternoon I saw a young boy trying to take another drunk home. I concluded the drunken man was the boy's father. The boy had great difficulty in getting his away from the saloons. What a pity that our boasted civilization will endure such things.

Last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock I saw three drunken men on the sidewalk on Thayer street. They perhaps bought the liquor on Saturday and went down on Thayer street to get drunk on Sunday. (?)

On Christmas night I was enjoying the evening with my family, and a friend who had dropped in, when hearing a noise on my porch, I told my boy, a lad of 12 years, to go to the door, saying that perhaps one of his boy friends wanted to see him. He opened the door and stepped back, saying to me, "Papa, it's a drunken man." Before I could get to the door, this intoxicated man was in my home. My wife is ill and very nervous, having recently passed through a critical operation. This man did not want to leave.

He used vile language in my home before my family on Christmas night! My wife is now afraid to stay alone, not knowing what minute one of our saloon products will call. My work compels me to be away evenings. I raise the question, How long, O how long will the self-respecting people of our fair city stand for this state of affairs? How long shall these public, stinking, crime producing hell holes be permitted to exist? How long before we arise and say to OUR 23 saloons, "skidoo!"

FEED THE BIRDS
The Buffalo News says that in the midst of all our remembering at this time do not let us forget our feathered friends. It is a good suggestion. The most of people in these prosperous days have a comfortable home and sufficient to eat. And most of us attend to our meals with a regularity and a precision which leave nothing to be desired. The express way to most of our hearts is via the stomach. The birds need to be fed just as we do. Here, in the north, they rely largely upon human kindness to help them get a meal. When the snow lies deep, their usual foraging ground is hidden and they are dependent upon freewill offerings. They reap no advantage from our prosperity except what is dispensed through the agency of their friends. So let us perform this little act of kindness and scatter a few scraps or crumbs from our table on a carefully swept space in our yards or gardens for the hungry feathered residents. They will repay us a hundred fold when bugs, beetles and weeds begin their war against our garden truck.
